

2014 Winter Olympics continue...Go team USA!

Team USA has already made its mark in figure skating history these games by winning the bronze medal in the inaugural team event. But there's plenty more competition still ahead!

Catch Jason Brown in the final flight of men during NBC prime time coverage Friday (tonight). With four skaters within one point of bronze medal position, it will be a race to the podium.

After that, cheer on gold medal dance favorites Meryl Davis and Charlie White. Wrap it all up by watching our team USA ladies. The contingent this year includes seasoned competitor Ashley Wagner and two rising stars Gracie Gold and Polina Edmunds.

NBC broadcast coverage includes:

- Sunday, 6pm - Short dance
- Monday, 7pm -Free dance
- Wednesday, 7pm - Ladies short program
- Thursday, 7pm - Ladies free skate

No freestyles this Saturday

Just a reminder that there is a hockey tournament scheduled this weekend, so there are no freestyle sessions on Saturday morning.

Upcoming test sessions

Our next test session is February 22nd and is already full. The following one is tentatively scheduled for April 12th.

Upcoming competitions

Sooner State Games, OKC, March 8-9. Registration deadline: Feb 24.
Skate KC, Kansas City, March 27-30. Registration deadline: Feb 23.
Skate Dallas, Dallas, April 24-27.

Permanent club ice time change

In case you haven't heard, club ice will be starting 15 minutes early, at 9:45am, going forward. This is to accommodate the growing Learn to Skate program on Saturday mornings. We look forward to more of those skaters joining our club ranks in the future!

Our next club session will be March 1st. We had a wonderful time with our mini-Olympic games on the February session. If anyone has photos to share from that, please send to angie@tulsafsc.com.

Passing of the torch

After many years of dedicated service, Jennifer DeAngelis has stepped down as president of the Tulsa Figure Skating Club. She will continue to complete her current term on the board. We thank her for all her hard work and continued commitment to the club's success. The board has elected me as the new president. I am both honored and humbled to step into this new role and look forward to building on our proud 76 year history together.
